Given: 1. The Queering 2. The Illumination

Given: 1. The Queering 2. The Illumination is an interactive male torso containing a femme microcosm. Inspired by Marcel Duchamp's Étant donnés and Tetsumi Kudo's Cultivation-New Ecology, this sculpture reimagines the archetypal voyeuristic female nude of art history through a contemporary Queer perspective. Peepholes punctuate the hyper-masculine exterior, humorously offering glimpses into an interior where organic and artificial elements intertwine. Dried flowers, bones, insects, reflective shards, circuitry, and wires combine to form "female anatomy". The sculpture entices its audience to consider a luminous interior world where heteronormativity, anthropocentrism, and the industrial-materialist framework of reality are subverted. Through peep holes that once invited a voyeuristic gaze (akin to that of art history) viewers now revel in the beautiful diversity of existence on full display. The sculpture will be displayed 24/7. At night black-lights will illuminate the sculpture.
